PRESENTERS

Governor Kathleen Sebelius

Pledging independent leadership to move Kansas forward, Kathleen Sebelius became the 44th Governor of the State of Kansas in 2003 and was re-elected to a second term in 2006. Time magazine named her one of the nation's top five governors in 2005. She is the first daughter of a Governor (John Gilligan, Ohio, 1971-1975) in U.S. history to be elected to that same position.

Governor Sebelius' administration is committed to growing the Kansas economy and creating jobs; ensuring every Kansas child receives a quality education; protecting Kansas families and communities; improving access to quality, affordable health care; and taking advantage of the state's renewable energy assets.

Secretary David Kerr, Kansas Department of Commerce

As Secretary of the Kansas Department of Commerce, David Kerr leads the state's lead economic development organization in its mission to empower individuals, businesses and communities to realize prosperity in Kansas. Kerr oversees the state's efforts to create jobs through business recruitment and expansion, agriculture marketing, workforce development, community development, international trade and travel and tourism.

Kerr joined Commerce after serving as President of AT&T Kansas from 2003-2007, where he was responsible for all regulatory, legislative, governmental and external affairs activities in the state. Prior to being named President, Kerr served as Vice President and General Manager, Local Interconnection Services, with responsibility for serving competitive local telephone companies.

Anthony Williams • Co-Author of Wikinomics, nGenera Insight Senior Fellow
Researcher and consultant Anthony Williams is the co-author of the groundbreaking book Wikinomics: How Mass Collaboration Changes Everything, the breakthrough introduction to the new economics transforming business and competition with the emergence of Web 2.0. For more than a decade, Williams has researched the impacts of new technologies on social, political and economic life. He has authored numerous influential reports on strategy, innovation and intellectual property, including a global effort to understand property, a global effort to understand how transparency is revolutionizing business and redefining the corporation's role in society.

Williams is a Senior Fellow at nGenera Insight. His work has been featured in such publications as Business Week, The Globe and Mail and the Times of India, and has been widely circulated in proprietary syndicated research programs.

Ron Crouch • Kentucky Data Center

As an expert demographer, Ron Crouch interprets the significant demographic changes that will affect state and local settings. He is well-known for his ability to "set the record straight" related to the demographic myths that most people hold. Crouch's insights have been featured in a major Wall Street Journal article concerning the new demographic realities facing America. He has developed census profiles for each of the 50 states that provide information beyond that available from traditional sources. Crouch is the Director of the Kentucky State Data Center at the University of Louisville and presents regularly at national and state conferences.

Robert Stonehill • Learning Point Associates

Dr. Stonehill's 30-year career at the U.S. Department of Education covered a range of programs from managing the Regional Educational Laboratories to providing leadership for key policy objectives of No Child Left Behind. In his most recent position, he managed a portfolio of programs and initiatives with a $6.2 billion annual budget focusing on ensuring all teachers are highly qualified, implementing and evaluating school reform efforts and providing high-quality after-school enrichment. He has extensive experience in developing, managing and evaluating national education initiatives to improve learning and teaching in high-need schools.

Larry Dixon • Jones Institute for Educational Excellence

Larry Dixon is a consultant with the Jones Institute for Education Excellence at Emporia State University. He is working with the Geary County Unified School District #475 on several special projects, which include closing the academic achievement gap that exists between black students and other subgroups, planning and implementing a multi-tier support system in the area of student behavior and building collaboration with employers, community organizations and other public and private agencies to enhance opportunities in the community for all students.

Larry A. Isaak • Midwestern Higher Education Compact

Larry Isaak was appointed President of the Midwestern Higher Education Compact (MHEC) in November 2003. Isaak has helped lead a significant expansion in MHEC activities related to student access, policy research and cost savings initiatives. MHEC is now actively engaged in a number of new policy initiatives, including preparation of annual reports on a number of higher education performance indicators, holding annual policy summits and engaging in a special initiative on education to workforce. MHEC's cost savings programs have expanded rapidly now saving states and institutions more than $31 million annually.

Steve Morris • President, Kansas Senate

Elected to the Kansas Senate in 1992, Steve Morris is in his fourth four-year term. He was further honored in 2004 to be elected by his Senate Republican colleagues to serve as President of the Senate. In this position, Sen. Morris assumes even greater responsibility.

Sen. Morris is an active member of a number of boards, committees and commissions at the local, state and national levels. He serves on the Executive Committee of The Energy Council (a consortium of energy producing states and Canadian provinces and the country of Venezuela). He is on the Executive Committee for both the Council of State Governments (CSG) and CSG Midwest. He is currently Vice Chairman of the National Conference of State Legislatures (NCSL) Agriculture, Environment and Energy Committee and is a member and past Chairman of the Council of State Governments (CSG) Agriculture Task Force. In the past, he has been Chairman of the CSG Health Capacity Task Force and served on the NCSL Rural Policy Task Force Steering Committee.

Mike O’Neal • Kansas House of Representatives Speaker-Elect

Speaker-Elect Mike O’Neal is a senior member of the Kansas House of Representatives. First elected in 1984, he is currently in his 11th term. O’Neal is currently Chairman of the House Judiciary Committee and was Chairman of the House Redistricting Committee during the 2002 session. He has chaired the House Judiciary Committee three different times, totaling 13 years, and has served as Chairman of the House Education Committee. He has twice been elected to the office of Republican Whip, and currently serves as Vice Chairman of the House Select Committee on School Finance.

Anthony Hensley • Minority Leader, Kansas Senate

Sen. Hensley was first elected to the Kansas Legislature in 1976 at the age of 23. He served 16 years in the Kansas House of Representatives before being appointed to the Kansas Senate July 1, 1992. He is a lifelong resident of the 19th Senate District, comprising eastern Topeka and Shawnee County, southern Douglas County and northern Osage County. In 1997, Sen. Hensley was elected Senate Minority Leader and is now in his third term in that office. 2008 marks Sen. Hensley’s 32nd session, making him the longest serving current member of the Legislature.

Paul Davis • Minority Leader, Kansas House of Representatives

Paul Davis, representative of the 46th House of Representatives District, took office in 2003. He serves on the House Taxation, Transportation and Judiciary committees. During his first term, Davis organized a bi-partisan group of freshmen legislators, offering an alternative budget plan to increase funding for K-12 and higher education, social services and to shore up the unfunded liability of the KPERS retirement system. Davis has introduced legislation requiring insurance companies to cover all forms of contraception for women and also introduced a bill that would completely revamp the legislative and congressional reapportionment process. He worked with Governor Sebelius during the 2004 session to pass a bill in the House of Representatives to put almost $150 million new dollars into K-12 education. Davis worked with Republican and Democratic legislators to save the state van pool program and authored a new law cracking down on persons who perpetrate financial scams against senior citizens.

Byron Zuidema • U.S. Department of Labor

Byron Zuidema was appointed as Chicago’s ETA Regional Administrator by Alexis Herman in May 1998. As a member of ETA’s Senior Executive Service, Zuidema provides leadership to national, state and local leaders to promote workforce solutions that meet the needs of employers, workers and communities. He recently served as ETA’s Administrative Officer while Acting Administrator of the Office of Financial and Administrative Management.
